Personal Bio

I am a relentlessly curious actor with a decidedly modern voice. I love learning new things and skills, while honing the old ones, and dedicated to have a great time in the pursuit. It's an adventure every time, after all, so it might as well be fun. And while, sure, that's how I got into acting, it's also how I got into computer engineering, biology, medicine, vaccine development, and biomedical engineering. But hey, if you're throwing in some giant robots, some time on the ice in goal, and maybe a day on the river, I'm golden.
