Personal Bio

I'm a Minneapolis, MN native with an exuberant personality. A former collegiate basketball player turned amateur boxer; I proudly clinched the St. Paul Golden Gloves championship in 2018. Second oldest of five siblings, I cherish family time and relish activities like yoga, self-growth, and all things fitness. My heart lies in youth development and empowering others. Currently, I'm deeply engrossed in real estate development, specifically multifamily/mixed-use apartment projects across the Twin Cities. My ultimate goal? To continuously pursue aspirations, welcoming growth and exciting opportunities in on-camera talent and voiceovers.
