Personal Bio

I'm an aspiring registered nurse who finds fulfillment in giving back to my community. I currently serve as a donor ambassador for the American Red Cross in the Southwestern region of Wisconsin. I'm deeply passionate about values such as self-appreciation, kindness, philanthropy, human dignity, empathy, education, and compassion. I strongly desire to continue expanding my knowledge within the talent industry and am eager to explore its various facets. Additionally, I'm a proud mother to a spirited three-year-old girl who constantly reminds me why I cherish motherhood. Her infectious joy brightens my days and keeps me constantly engaged. During my leisure time, I indulge in various physical activities, including indoor cycling, painting, reading, cooking, pole fitness, and weight training. I also savor moments at the beach with my family. Balancing these pursuits with motherhood is a joyful challenge I embrace. My ultimate goal is to contribute to causes larger than myself while enjoying the journey. I aim to cultivate professional relationships and deliver my best work in a highly professional manner, thereby enhancing the success of projects in the fields of talent, entertainment, and modeling.
