Personal Bio

Beckett, lovingly called "B" at home, loves to do everything his big brother is doing, Cars, Ghost Busting, building, running, and being outside - all day if we let him. Also loves playing with baby dolls and toy horses. He's a real charmer when he's in trouble, and can often get his disciplining parents to crack a smile or laugh when we should be serious. He's pretty set on being read to by literally anyone willing. Pretty sure he wants to be best friends with the Story Bots when he grows up. Despite his lack of skill he is currently obsessed with ice skating. Though, when he's on one of his grand parent's horses he looks like the happiest kids in the planet. At home we cook, draw, sing, read books, and get outside as often as possible.
