Personal Bio

I stepped away from the world of corporate sports marketing in 2015 to focus on my son and daughter's final years of high school. Now that they are both college students, I've decided to focus more on some long-time bucket list items of my own.

I'm one of those people who like to step outside of my comfort zone and dream a little bit. I had always thought about what it would be like to be on TV. So, I started looking for opportunities and landed an on-air guest role on ShopHQ and Invicta Watch Group.

Now, in addition to ShopHQ, I'm looking for other opportunities that further me along my goal of hosting my prime time tv show. Dream big I say.
