Personal Bio

I am very outgoing and love talking to all types of people. I enjoy learning new things and, surprisingly, pick up new skills/hobbies very quickly. I grew up in Fargo, North Dakota but I currently live in Saint Cloud, Minnesota. Growing up it was mainly just my mom, my sister and I but since I moved out I only regularly see my sister. My family is multiracial(Thai and African American) and I am very proud of my culture. I am very hardworking and a bit of a perfectionist. It is always my goal to do the absolute best work I can regardless of the task. It is my passion to perform in multiple capacities including acting, singing, and dancing and I hope to be professionally acting someday. With hard work and dedication I believe I can do anything I set my head to.
